Ohhhâ€¦ ooh ooh

I don't understand
This should be so easy
To just reach out my hand
And know the world is real
But nothing's as it seems
Though I can tell you freely Touching's not the only way to feel

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the rain

I know you probably say
That I'm just talking crazy
To think of life that way
It means that I'm confused
There's happy and there's sad
But maybe yes just maybe
The sadness can make the happiness more true

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something
good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the
rain

Because I know the bones were necessary

I don't let it bother me at all

When the rain falls
It's like heaven's crying
When the name's all
The difference that there is
Cause tears are
The same when they are trying to grow something
good
Out of all the pain
There's no difference between the teardrops and the
rain

Oh! ooh ooh
