This is my third breakdown this week want to tell you why, but I can't speak Feet wanna stand up, but I'm too weak wanna run, can't move my feet Smaller not able to say what I please stopped my emotional release Let locked everything inside myself but not saying a word won't solve my case It don't act just like me sing, if you feel like singing Out scream, if you feel like screaming wail, if you feel like wailing just let it out laugh, if you feel like laughing cry, if you feel like crying yell, if you feel like yelling

just let it out

I swallow all my problems now keep em inside, won't let em out I know I will explode one day you better not stand in my way (when this happens) not able to do what I please
locked everything inside myself but not doing a thing won't solve my case don't act just like me chorus

Whatever's on your chest, shout it out be loud, Alle so that everybody hears you when you speak it all-out.
the biggest mistake that you can make is not to say what's on your mind Feet so just shout it out and everything's fine but some people won't always share your opinion, so if someone says the opposite of what you think, ignote him.
Life is just about solving problems to be at sixes and sevens with your friends but who cares, shit happens.
