Long time coming,
But no-one seen it coming,
Long gone then,
And your heart is still running,

Now you're thinking 'bout the times,
And the things you should've done.
Well you might aswell forget it,
In the end you have won.

Long gone letters,
Well it makes you feel better,
Now you spend your day calm,
But you spend the nights shattered.

It's a long time now,
To be left in no doubt,
It's a long time change,
Do you still feel the same?

And you just can't shake that mood,
'Cos she's poisoned all your food,
Now you're bogged down in those blues,
And you just can't shake them loose.

It's a long time coming

It's a long time now,
To be left in no doubt,
It's a long time change,
Do you still feel the same?

Long time coming
