Well we used to be the best of friends,
We used to hang around,
Now i always see you with your new girlfriend,
On the sunny side of town.

Oh your body is the same and your face ain't changed,
But your mind ain't where it's at.
You're too busy huggin' and a kissin' now,
And for you that can't be bad.
But i've made a deal with the clouds,
Gonna turn that sun into rain,
So you can forget about your love,
Come and see me again.

Oh remember me, i'm your best friend,
And we don't talk no more,
So if you're in the neighbourhood,
Don't forget to knock on my door.

Coz i've gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in

Now i stand upon your path, and i'm shouting up to you,
Won't you come and give me a minute now,
There's a message here for you.

Me and a couple of old school friends,
We're going out to drink,
You can come along but leave your girl at home,
It will give you time to think.

But you called at the last minute,
Said you were staying in,
Well this is not a joke old friend,
I'm a getting sick of this.

Oh remember me when she leaves you,
And you come knock on my door,

Well i can nurse your broken heart,
'Cos that's what friends are for.

Coz i've gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
Gotta keep the feelin, keep the feelin' in
