Glory ahead, destiny awaits
A formidable feat to scale the peaks
A frozen wall beckons you to climb
Take the plunge up high where many have died
Your chance of survival is low
Icy winds are not your only foe
Are you afraid

Summon your strength
Fighting the chill
Will you return
It's all for the thrill

Sharpen your skills, or it breaks your will
At the foot of the great glacier
Abominable beasts who seek to feast
At the foot of the great glacier

The challenge is great, will you be the first
The summit has never been reached before
What will your sacrifice be
No room to fail your time is now

Sink your teeth in the mountain you're beneath
At the foot of the great glacier
Your last gasp is near and you'll tremble with fear
At the foot of the great glacier

Bolster your spirit if you hope to reach
The top of the great glacier
If unprepared, your body will fall
To the foot of the great glacier

Risking your life, no fortune to gain
A chance for your tale to be told
Immortalized, your name will live on
If you can succeed in your attempt
The sickness, the altitude
The falling rocks all must be overcome

To conquer all!
