You didn't care for astronomy, but you listen when I say:
"I am a planet, dark and solitary, and you have become the focus of my orbiting"

With your mere existence I am pulled in by what feels like gravity; until I am uncontrollably circling, shooting by the near, then distant surroundings

You are not just my night fire
You are more than my bright star
You are my life-giving sun
You are the only one

At last near, you warm me to the core, until I am forced toward the start I can't help but look back to you; as always, it's too soon for us to part

You are not just my night fire
You are more than my bright star
You are my life-giving sun
You are the only one
