Sitting on the porch swing thinking about her life
At seventeen she was a mother at nineteen someone's wife Time's been traveling oh so fast she's watching it pass her by Remembering her child hood dreams as she wonders
Is there still time (Chorus)
Is there still time|still time for her to chase her dreams
The ones she left behind|Is there still time
Between the football and the little league
The broken vows and the misery can she somehow find the strength
To bring her dreams to life|Is there still time She closes her eyes and imagines she's singing on that stage
In front of all her screaming fans everybody knows her name
The man who broke her heart in two sits watching from the crowd
She opens her eyes|covers her mouth then laughs out loud
Is There still time| Is there still time|still time for her to chase her dreams
The ones she left behind|Is there still time
Between the football and the little league
The broken vows and the misery can she somehow find
the strength
To bring her dreams to life|Is there still time
(Instrumental Break)
(Repeat Chorus)
