A thousand times ive heard them say
What good is this to us anyway
A thousand times i live this day
I listen to words as they float away
And that's what this is all about
A little bit of emptiness put out
A little bit of tragedy,
To make it seem deeper than it should be
Im so low
Even when i see the way is up
Im so low
Even when i lose myself
Im so low
Everything is pushing me back down and i know

Im so low
A thousand prayers ive had to speak
A little bit of help to ease the weak
A thousand steps i never learn
I end up falling with every turn
And that's what this is all about
A little bit of emptiness put out
A little bit of tragedy
To make it seem deeper than it could be
I live once
I give once
I am stuck
Where is love
