Hello, I call your name, is it ever gonna be the same Hello, was it yesterday, I am standing on my knees and pray
Is it over now my love, over now my love

Hello, there were you and I, and the world out there was passing by Hello, you were swept away, what's the meaning no one dares to say
Is it over now my love, over now my love

I recall an easy living, heart to heart as we were giving,
Were so close one life ahead,
We were happy and so true, Will I find another you, please don't leave me

I can see your face and glory, wanna touch you but it's end of story,
I still love you my precious one,
You were laughing next to me, teardrops's all I see

Hello, the road is long, will I ever find where I belong Hello, there's a fading light, who am I to ever get it right
Is it over now my love, over now my love, over now my love
