"Any Day"

I'm old but not broken
Leaning heavy on hope and I'm hoping
I can always close my eyes to see

I'm tired but not sleepy
There's a vision every night that I'm keeping
And the sun must rise for my eyes to see

Any day it could break
Any day I'll be beautiful
So I'll wait for a day when I make it through

I'm cold but not frozen
Many miles left to keep and they're growing
But I'll drive them all until I find my way

Any day it could break
Any day I'll be beautiful
So I'll wait for the day when I make it through

I'm torn but not tattered
All the choices I've made that don't matter
I'll be on this road at the end of the day
I'll be on this road at the end of the day
I'll be on this road at the end of the day
