For all my life i wondered the identity of my blunder wasnt my fault the times were changing without me leaving myself out in the cold not letting in what ive been told what happened to the things we said we would be for ever and some girls are good for friendship and some girls are good for lovin but girls who try to take your friends away those girls are good for nothin what happened yeah what the fuck happened to us cant say that i ever felt so lost

and i know its not my fault you say she didnt but i know she did it all

some girls are good for lovin
but girls who try to take your friends away
those girls are good for nothin
