So many times I've lost myself in what I loved
So many times it seemed that all my passion was gone
I lost the sense of where I was going
Couldn't feel my feet on the soil
On the soil that fed me
Couldn't stop to compare
Stop seeing people as better than me
Could only see what I couldn't do
Couldn't receive any inspiration
For my own creation
Couldn't receive any inspiration
For my own beautiful creation

But you must go on and on and on and on
Doesn't matter if you broke your own heart down
Uhhh
Doesn't matter if your faith's right now broken down
You must fight to let yourself know that you can let go
But until then you must go on and on and on and on
You cannot stop because of feeling left alone
Uhh
You have to look for your own strength and confidence
But until you've found 'em
You must go on and on and on

So many times I've put myself under pressure
With the misbelief that my reached aims
Proved my passion
I've put my lack of confidence
Into the hands of another person

But when she left I stood there
Still couldn't trust in myself
Hold on to myself
Give myself time and the patience that it needed
Get my joy back in letting go
Enjoy soulful creations as an inspiration
Receiving them with joy
For my own beautiful creation

But you must go on and on and on and on

Doesn't matter if you broke your own heart down
Doesn't matter if your faith's right now broken down
You must fight to let yourself know that you can let go
But until then you must go on and on and on and on
You cannot stop because of feeling left alone
You have to look for your own strength and confidence
But until you've found 'em
You must go on and on and on

Inspiration not comparison
Not comparison
Set your mind free
Free
Trust in your ability
Don't let yourself hang now
Take responsibility
Take responsibility
Treat yourself as you'd wish people treat you
Huu
With all the respect and acknowledge you
You can do it, set your mind free
