Drugs and war are now in ruins
We could live without
And now we're living life in doubt
In awkward times and situations
We begin again
And now we're finding other wins

Woah oh we're picking up pieces
Woah oh the boys and girls
Woah we're starting a new life
Save the world

Woah oh we're starting to see light
Woah oh we know it comes first
Woah oh we're helping each other
Save the world

In our worlds most desparate hours
We must band in to one
Help the damned belong within us
Because the change has just begun
Out of our reach
Out of our hands
This will be the end
And in the hearts of all the millions that we lost

Woah oh we're picking up pieces
Woah oh the boys and girls
Woah we're starting a new life
Save the world

Woah oh we're starting to see light
Woah oh we know it comes first
Woah oh we're helping each other
Save the world

And in our darkest hours we'll fade away
And in our problems we will try to change
And in this movement we will break the silence
Just to have a better world

Woah oh we're picking up pieces
Woah oh the boys and girls
Woah we're starting a new life
Save the world

Woah oh we're starting to see light
Woah oh we know it comes first
Woah oh we're helping each other
Save the world
