I wasn't looking for no lovin'
My hearts got a penthouse without a view
And I'm just fine living all by myself Lately I've been thinking about making some room for two

You come around and suddenly I'm defenseless
My walls you knock em' down with just one touch
My guard it can't be found
I feel so helpless
Destined to fall heart and all straight to the ground
Your love is a wrecking ball

It's true, I've got a strong foundation
And I laid each brick down with my own two hands
No act of God has ever left these stones shakin', baby
But they've all but crumbled thanks to this demolition man

You come around and suddenly I'm defenseless
My walls you knock em' down with just one touch
My guard it can't be found
I feel so helpless
Destined to fall heart and all straight to the ground
Your love is a wrecking ball

It's too late to take it slow
All I can do is brace myself for the blow
