You look at me
And pretend that everything is fine
When we both know
That not a thing is right

How do we make through the week?
When we still can't make it through a day
How do you think about tomorrow?
When I'm still stuck in yesterday

Days and days- days go by Yesterday- I wonder why days has passed- we still date
It's a Mistake- but everyday's the same
You fake a smile
And tell me everything is OK
The joke is getting old
I tell you that every single day

How do we make through the week?
When we still can't make it through a day
How do you think about tomorrow?
When I'm still stuck in yesterday
