Sow my heart back in my chest
After you ripped it out
I guess I brought this on myself
Should have never let my feelings out
I found half of it*t
Shriveled up on your back portch
The other half is geting stepped out on the floor
I need my heart, it's what makes me.....

How could you be
So mean to me?
You know I liked you more that anything
My boat was coming down
You left me there to drown
You were my everything
You were my everything

And when I say take these plyers
And rip away both my eyes
I hate to see you happy
When i'm so fucking lonely

And now since your not my girlfriend
Everything reminds me of you
Do you follow me now?
Won't let this happen again
I'll take a bat and break all those things

2x
How could you be
So mean to me?
You know I liked you more that anything
My boat was coming down
You left me there to drown
You were my everything
You were my everything

How could you be
So fucking mean to me?
You know I liked you more that anything
My boat was coming down
You left me there to drown

You were my everything
You were my everything
