(Lola)

When I was just a kid everything I did, was to be like him under my skin
My father always thought, if I was strong and fought not like some albatross, I'd begin to fit in

Look at me powerless and holding my breath trying hard to repress what scared him to death It was not that easy to be his type of man to breathe freely was not in his plan and the best part of me is what he wouldn't see

I'm not my fathers son
I'm not the image of what he dreamed of
With the strength of Sparta and the patience of Job, still couldn't be the one to echo what he'd done
and mirror what was not in me

So I jumped in my dreams and found an escape maybe I went to extremes of leather and lace, but the world seems brighter six inches off the ground and the air seemed lighter I was profound and I felt so proud just to live out loud

I'm not my fathers son
I'm not the image of what he dreamed of
With the strength of Sparta and the patience of Job,

The endless story of expectations swirling inside my mind wore me down
I came to a realization and I finally turned around to see that I could just be me

(Charlie)
I'm not my fathers son

(Lola)
With the strength of Sparta and the patience of Job,

(Charlie/Lola)

(Lola)
We're the same, Charlie boy, you and me.
