I see you shaking on the kitchen floor
It's the little things that give you away
You're gone you're gone, like yesterdays wine
But there's no line between mad and divine

There is no more, good and evil
Just the helpin'
Party time people
From the gutter, to the steeple
Time to get up
Party time people

This day to day can't really get you down
But you've been given blessed relief
Good night good night, nobody lives twice
We'll make this spot you're own paradise

There is no more, good and evil
Just the helpin'
Party time people
From the gutter, to the steeple
Time to get up
Party time people

There is no more, good and evil
Just the helpin'
Party time people
From the gutter, to the steeple
Turn together
Party time people
Don't be ashamed, this is no crime
It's just a lover of all our good times
From the gutter, to the steeple
It's time to get up party time people
