Some people live their life
Based on what they think is wrong or right
No matter if their views are rejected
Others make decisions
Based on what they think is popular
As long as what they say is accepted

Another day to ponder the truth
Another day to lie
I wonder what I'm gonna do
I've got the rest of my life

Our little subculture is full of this bullshit
With everybody shouting to be heard
Isn't it ironic, everybody has an answer
And there hasn't been anything learned

Another day to ponder the truth
Another day to lie
I wonder what I'm gonna do
I've got the rest of my life

I won't be a part of it, I can think for myself
I won't be a part of it, I can think for myself
I won't be a part of it, I can think for myself
I will stand apart from it, I can think for myself
