People tell me

You stay where you belong

But all my life I've tried

To prove them wrong

They say I'm lookin for

Something that can't be found

They say I'm missing out

My feet don't touch the ground

But there are moments

When you can't deny what's true

Just an ordinary day

Like when I met you

It's funny how life can take new meaning

You came and changed what I believe in

The world on the outside's trying to pull me in

But they can't touch me cuz I got you

I want to thank you

For all of the things you've done

And most for choosing me

To be the one

It's funny how life can take new meaning

You came and changed what I believe in
The world on the outside's trying to pull me in
But they can't touch me cuz I got you
And it hits me when I reach for you
That I'm afraid you won't be there
Maybe I am in too deep
But I don't care
I gotta prove them wrong
I've got you
Can't deny what's true
They can't touch me
Baby
I got you
