I'll send the angels to watch over you tonight

And you send them right back to me

A lonely road is a bodyguard

If we really want it to be

There's a fascination behind every window

But I know you really care for me

And soon we'll be sleeping in Paris

And we can set those angels free

No one sees behind the mask

No one knows I'm sinking fast

But soon we'll be sleeping in Paris

And we can set those angels free

Love is just a lunar slave

It's tied to the ebb and flow

Generations get glued to the waves

Just to see which way they'll go

There's a desperation on wild street corners

But I think you're just waiting for me

And soon we'll be sleeping in Paris
And we can set those wild ones free
No one sees behind the door
But everyday it's one step forward
And soon we'll be sleeping in Paris
And we can set those wild ones free
All those nights I laid with my eyes closed
But not sleeping at all
Those nights
I thought I knew which way the wind blows
But now its blowing me back to you
And the wind speaks French too
No one sees and no one knows
But every day I'm letting go
And soon we'll be sleeping in Paris
Soon we'll we sleeping in Paris
And we can set those angels free
