We will fight
Fortify
We wont crash into oblivion
We will climb
Undeny
We will draw our own conclusions
From this time

I need some kind of release
I need some kind of release
We will race
Through this fate
In the dawn of this dimension
There's a face
Sublimate
We will take up
Break up
These forgotten names

I need some kind of release
I need some kind of release
I need some kind of release
I need some kind of release

All of your life trying to be
You are the one you can not see
All of your life trying to be
You are the one you can not see

I need some kind of release
I need some kind of release

We will fight
Fortify
We wont crash into oblivion
We will climb
Undeny
We will draw our own conclusions
From this time

All of your life trying to be

You are the one you can not see
All of your life trying to be
You are the one you can not see

He swallowed his heroes
They fell out of context
He opened his windows
To decadent interest
He polished his image
Like that of a human
He battled the planets and won

He won
He won
He won
He won

All of your life trying to be
You are the one you can not see
All of your life trying to be
You are the one you can not see

All of my life trying to be
I am the one you can not see
All of my life trying to be
