This one goes out to the other
For I just never realised
How I used to take it all on me
Despite the fact it wasn't mine

I don't know you like I used to
I can't accept this state of mind
It don't feel to good , I can assure you
To know I never really tried

I'm not begging you, no I'm not going to
Can't find the words today, won't help me anyway
I've got a comment to, oh what's become of you
It's just a bit too late
Now you're gone

This one goes out to the other
For I just never realise
How I use to take it all on me
Despite the fact it wasn't mine

I'm not begging you, no I'm not going to
Can't find the words today, won't help me anyway
I've got a comment to, oh what's become of you
It's just a bit too late Now you're gone
