I'm alright, I feel real fine
I don't live a life that's uptight
When there's a fight there's struggling
I can't roll through the world without offering
Questions, what's my direction
Break in the grip of depression
It comes in the day when you let things go
There comes a time to rock a show

You know the time that you feel
That nothing else really matters
Here on this spot in the world
That you belong

That's where I am when the lights going down
I'll find a way to make some fun
I know there is a leak of energy
Through someone

How do you feel?
Cause I couldn't ask for a single thing more
How do you feel?
The moment you know just what you were for

I'm on a quest with a vision
I've got love and tradition

I'll wear a mask that grins and laughs
So remember what I've done
I'm a vibe under the sun
I penetrate all dimensions
I've come again, rejuvenate within
I'm future animation

I feel the fuel rushing through my veins
In sunburn and flames
You can take on the world
It's all in your brain

How do you feel?
Cause I couldn't ask for a single thing more
How do you feel?

The moment you know just what you were for

How do you feel?

Cause I couldn't ask for a single thing more

How do you feel?

The moment you know just what you were for

How do you feel?

Cause I couldn't ask for a single thing more

How do you feel?

The moment you know just what you were for
