A day like today is for you to let your mind unwind, like you ought to feel the earth turn round when your heart rate slows contemplating the thing only your heart knows that life's not a race

So hard to believe part of me will fade in a mystery, in a future world long ago, parts feel for your love and lives to tell you so

The world revolves around your mind in a golden spiral the natural way that things organize you can't stop entropy so why even try observe the conscious flow and don't mystify life's not a race

Uh, hey
slippin' into a trance a chance encounter in the autumn what do I see an opportunity and then, I got' em saw the chill-out mix carve some space to make you want to listen it's a bubbling spring and double in kings of this soundsystem

and lives to tell you so

Do you see world without end the rising my friend imagine cloud like you will form again through spacey boredom in the autumn of late afternoon you are calm, just like a sleepy room
