Do you want me to cry?
Cry for you
How can you say
That you're blue
A rich rock star you are
Yet you still complain
That's insane

Imagine if you
Had a child of two
You're a single mom
With a son named two
You work a long hard day
Just to bill pay
With no time to play
Then what would you say

Still in this world what it means to me
Losin' my grip as i trip on anomalies
My third eye is the prize of unflyin' horus
The pleadies will smash out of taurus
Energy pure decompose in the porous
Soil of life moving on it's courses

Crystals 'neaththe surface radiate the cycle
Combing minerals they will flex and let go
Toxically were built to never last
'cause the waste we make all day
Steady growin' fast
I get up intake my blue-green algae
Let it penetrate
Strengthen my grasp
Holistic healers dealin' our galactic growth
Reversin' fx of shit wrecked Chernobyl

Wanna take it further
Let's take that funk further
Wanna take it further
Let's take that love further

We've all got pain that's real
And we should say how we feel

And i've felt so alone
But i know i've always got a home
The question i'm upservin'
Is am i really deserving

Gamma waves bacterial plagues
Cow mutilations all the time
Not to mention visitations
More than 2000 years
Of fuckin' with our fears
The only thing true
We gotta love each other
Try to keep a positive vibe
They make it tough for ya
You're cut off and lonely
While you hustle for dough
We can overcome the wrongs
While we're reachin' the point
Stick together all forever
Now continue to flow
