Well I don't have as many friends because

I'm not as pretty as I was

I've kicked myself at times because I lie

So I will have to learn to stand my ground

Tell 'em I won't be around

I'll move on over to your town and hide

(CHORUS)

You be the captain

And I'll be no one

And you can carry me away if you want to

And you can lay low

Just like your father

And if I tread upon your feet you just say so

'Cause your the captain I am no one

I tend to feel as though I owe to you

To you

Well I have handed all my efforts in

Searched here for my second win

Deserve somewhere here to let me in i asked

So I slammed the doors they slammed at me

I found the place I'm meant to be

I figured out my destiny at last

(CHORUS)

Did I forget to thank you for the ride

I hadn't tried

I tend to run away and hide

(CHORUS)

'Cause your the captain I am no one

I tend to feel as though I owe one to you

'Cause your the captain

I am no one and i owe one

to you
