When these things have all been broken

You can wait for me

Everything you've ever spoken

Complimentary

Continue with deceptive lies

And wrapped around your thin disguise

Ways to let you know

Ways to let you know

Everything we've ever started

You can come and go

Laying loveless, disregarded

I don't wanna know

Complaining that you'll lose your mind

And break me when you find the time

Ways to let you know

Ways to let you know

Time

What you always said before was mine

Tell me more about the days in rhyme
