Old Bridge, New Jersey never felt the same
St. Patty's Day this year was anything but lame
That stone covered lot, rain pouring from the sky
I had no idea I'd become one lucky guy

Went out the backdoor to escape out to the car
Honestly I've only dreamt of makin it this far
Eased the seat back hat titled to the side
Victim of seduction Go Real Slow played on inside
Just one of those days I'll never forget
And to this day I have no regrets
Even the morning after when I woke and realized
What happened yesterday
Looked back with open eyes

Found some shamrocks and evened up the score
I lost my wallet and a whole lot more
I finally grasped what used to be so far away
Cuz I became a man on St. Patty's Day
