I was wondering how you felt about short hair and the movies baby
And I was wondering about that smile guess its seen a lot of lovers
Maybe its been longer than I thought, guess I got a lot of doubt
But would you mind if I asked you out

Now, every breakup has its memory just like points along a graph
You came in at just the right time its been so long since I laughed
You might be important to me, besides that youre well endowed
So would you mind if I asked you out

I havent been alone for too long baby and the past aint far behind
So we should take it slowly now really or you could spend the night tonight

So tell me that you love the ocean, sleeping under starry sky
Say that you aint got no big dog, knock me down and drink my wine
You can start a fire in my heart better than any boy scout
So would you mind if I asked you out
