Alchemy of Love

Come to you accross the divide

Looking out a wrinkle in in time

There is nothing less I would do

Than to stand up for truth

In the cold dark ways of this lonely place

I will warm you, hold you

A gold shield glistens

And your breath quickens

I stand close by over you

Two hands held strong and sure with the power of one

Reaching out past the walls that can hold you

We are guardians and warriors

Come from somewhere to mind

What creates you and shapes

The Alchemy of Love

There is a chain of light up accross the endless sky

And I see the energy that reflects me in your eyes

And keeps us both alive

And keeps us both alive

Even when the shadows will come

To destroy what we have done

But always will the power of love

Shine a light bright as the sun

When the cold dark lakes of the shore break

I am around you, found you

A gold sword fire and night expires

A warm night surrounding you

Two hands held strong and sure with the power of one

Reaching out past the walls that can hold you

We are guardians and warriors

Come from somewhere to mind

What creates you and shapes

The Alchemy of Love

There is a chain of light up accross the endless sky

And I see the energy that reflect me in your eyes

And keeps us both alive

And keeps us both alive

When the dark lakes of the shore break

I'm around you, found you

A gold shield glistens

and you breath quickens
I stand close by over you
Two hands held strong and sure with the power of one
Reaching out past the walls that can hold you
We are guardians and warriors
Come from somewhere to mind
What creates you and shapes
The Alchemy of Love
Two hands held strong and sure with the power of one
Reaching out past the walls that can hold you
We are guardians and warriors
Come from somewhere to mind
What creates you and shapes
The Alchemy of Love
