Held in young hands,
That light is shivering
I've come all this way
Wandering the edge of time

I came still searching
I don't even know your name, but
One little feeling
I just wanted to hand over to you

Sometimes I catch and hold
Love and pain, tightly in my arms
It will fade away, but
I'll remember
Forever...

It'd been echoing in my chest
For who knows how long...
Though it's a whisper tinier
Than a drop of evening fog
