Resist one more time walked the line burning through the pages of my life cuz i cant help myself decide if i wasnt to live or die try to understand why i'm killing myself with my own hand no solution
mass confusion that situation that i'm facing can't stop chasing memories i can't ignore these casualties fallacies come with ease off the tongue of the enemy that voice keeps telling me gotta find myself

cant keep living off and on turn my head and all is gone can't let it get the best of me no time keeps ticking on and on

night falls no sleep start to flow heat straight to my veins eliminate the pain the warm feeling healing my soul dealing control sanctuary necessary to let go and before i die heal myself inside and before i die kill myself insice gotta find myself

[chorus]

cant let go no way stay clear never back trak keep you head on straight know where your hearts at stay real to yourself never give up you get up find yourself inside youself time marches on and on and still the same old song boredom perpetuates stagnation which creates confusion in you head depression that you dread so check that mental health you got to gree yourself now gotta find myself

[chorus]
