The Rumor going 'round
Is that I haven't shed a tear
But don't they know you can't believe everythign you hear
'Cause ever since You left
I've been a master of disguise
I may be smiling on the outside
But don't look in my eyes 'cause
The inside story
Is as clear as black and white
I still dream about you
When i turn out the lights
the news out on the street
Says you didn't even break my heart
But the inside story
Is tearing me apart
I thought maybe there was something wrong
That we'd work out in time
And looking back I can see
I didn't read between the lines
And now my pride helps me hide the pain

So it's not written on my face

When we pass I'll pretend your memory

Was easy to erase but..

The inside story

Is as clear as black and white

I still dream about you

When I turn out the lights The news on the street

Says you didn't break my heart

But the inside story

Is tearing me apart

The inside story

Is tearing me apart
