If a picture is worth a thousand words
Why am i left sp speechless?
When I look at the picture you left with us
Torn apart just like my heart
You hung us out to dry
Go!

It's something killing me and keeping me alive
Someone give me the strength to survive!
And help me put this back into my past
Where I'll never feel this pain again
An insult to each of us
You might as well have slapped us in the face
You showed us
A side of you we've never seen
I hope that you dont show us again

What did I do to deserve what you did?
What you did!
Do you think that I will forget this and forgive?
And forgive!

It's something killing me and keeping me alive
Someone give me the strength to survive!
And help me put this back into my past
Where I'll never feel this way again
An insult to both of us
You might as well have slapped us in the face
You showed us
A side of you we've never seen
I hope that you dont show us again
