I've heard of many people coming
And of many people gone
ANow I know this time our love has gone too far
I was sinking when you said:
"There's no room for me in your heart"
And I have to hold myself right from the start

Because you never tried to believe me
When I was devoted to you
And you never wanted to please me
When I wanted you to be true

How can I ever believe you
When you say I'm deep in your heart
How can I ever convince you
To come back into my arms

You crystal magic love
