I watched you fall apart
Then try to clean it up.
You picked up half the pieces
Of a broken heart.

But this is not about you,
It never was, no.
I wanna get through to you,
Show you I'm the one,
But maybe that's just being young.
Falling in and out of time
Forgetting how it was
Last time we were in love.

Imagine you outside you
Trying to get in.
Your walls made of plaster
Already running thin.

But this is not about you,
It never was, no.
I wanna get through to you,
Show you I'm the one,
But maybe that's just being young.
Falling in and out of time
Forgetting how it was
Last time we were in love.
