"Change Your Mind 219"

Living in the past
is not living at all the old fear going fast everybody's scared to fall turn with the times
change your mind
sullen and profane
the ancient temple stands dissolving in the rain
its gods long turned to sand forgotten childhood rhyme
change your mind
listen for the ring
of tomorrow's bell
be the first to sing
from beyond the wishing well know what's behind
but change your mind
