rays of the moon make magic in the streets of the city all the people get strange but their faces look so pretty the walking graffiti; survivalist bums; even the secret police shout that you're the one see how i miss you

every psychopath gets his own magazine these days i just read about how i can kill in a hundred ways but i don't want to cause anybody pain i only want to hold you in my arms again
see how i miss you

i watch this woman in a tight sequined lizard dress -- tosses her scarlet hair like a sly caress she got midnight voice like some beckoning saint she got something special but you she ain't
see how i miss you
