You're counting on your beliefs again to carry you through until your end. All you have to grasp onto as it draws near is your fear.

So who do you blame for all this suffering and pain?

I can point my finger at one, the ones who think they have the right to take an 8 year old boy to the street and pass him off so innocently, when it's only them we see ~ the ones that stab their veins, driven by the ones that hold the reigns. Did you ever stop to think that when.

You get pushed down every day do you say what you want to say? You'll make it easier for you to find a better way. When you get pushed down every day do you say what you want to say? You'll make it easier for you to take control of your life, to take some control over your life.

You can take it step by step or just wallow in your shadow. Waiting for the right time to make your move, to take a stand against these fucks that infest our streets and destroy life, acting with so much ignorance. When it's only them we see in our broken dreams, your worst nightmare. You'll end up in despair. Why can't we all just be the same and convey the same morals?

But when you get pushed down every day do you say what you want to say? You'll make it easier for you to find a better way.

there's a relationship between control and the controlled.
