"Gonna Take A Lie"

Fever in a blister out, you know
It will simmer until its cold
Even in a fleeting range
The suffering fills us full

Are you going to win me around again
Play that sound like you always do

Its going to take a lie
Nothing else will do
Its going to take a lie
As if it really matters
Its going to take a lie
This time
I want to see your face when its all through

Why not think of this as pure intention
Why not think of this as pulling through
Will you ever win me round again
Play that sound like you always do

Its going to take a lie
Nothing else will do
Its going to take a lie
As if it really matters
Its going to take a lie
This time
I want to see your face when its all through

Your never going to bring me round again
Play that sound like you always do

Its going to take a lie
Nothing else will do
Its going to take a lie
As if it really matters
Its going to take a lie
This time
I don't want to see your face when its all through

Its going to take a lie

Nothing else will do
Its going to take a lie
As if it really matters
Its going to take a lie
This time
I want to see your face
