

Conells, The "Overdose"

Visit "Overdose" on MotoLyrics.com

Stunned i am bewildered in my bed
An overdose on something that was said
Rollover time measured by the mile
Feeling knots that never will untie

Flecks of dust dancing in the sun
A ticking clock ticking for no-one
The phone is still and still is what it's like
To hide the sun and sink into the night

Hanging from a tree is the passing time for me
Discomfort when the tonics simply aren't
Initials in the tree in the vein of misery
At least i didn't carve you in my arms

Did you know i saw you in a dream
Me on a limb, you looking up at me
I never smiled, you laughed until you cried
It's better here at least i've come outside

Visit Conells, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.