Could have been the silentness awake and waiting for another chance.
I lay down my head for the day
Cuz there's nothing insane again

Could have been the silence that you make
I Was waiting for you
I lay down my head for the day
Because I'm so alone

So I drink what I can't have
But I wasn't born yesturday
Cuz I wait for you
Cuz your inside my head
I wait for you
But your the only one

I remember what I use to say
When we were alone
I held down my hand, you walked away
Now your searching for someone

So I drink what I can't have
But I wasn't born yesturday
Cuz I wait for you
Cuz your inside my head
I wait for you
But your the only one
I turn to see
It keeps me hanging onn

(Still inside my head, built in my head, built inside my head)
Inside my head

I wait for you
But your inside my head
I wait for you
I turn to see
But your still in Me
