The angel found himself tonight
Wings clipped he still would try and fly away
Defiance seen by Gods eyes
For truth could come from this insight

So my faith has added
Now follow the dust slipping through Gods hands

So God has lost its grip and
Made life crashing round
The angel so innocent
Now paid for the sin of doubt

Confess all your sins and prepare for redemption
The angel declined instead and faced his damnation

Force me to be the thing youve always believed
And now my eyes are open wide can see
The blind lead the blind
Now the sheeps led astray
And he will find his own way
Without the shepard of fear to blind his vision so clear

And I see the light behind your eyes
Force fed since you were a child
Scared-worship-slavery
And now salvation has found that

Were all gods now

Fly away, find yourself
And burn away that sickened piece of you

Ive seen the fear behind your eyes
(and still you love him)
Ive heard the doubt of every prayer you cried
(and still you trust him)
