Not knowing if or what to say.
My feelings deep inside, for years I've tried to hide,
But in my dreams my heart has cried.
Let me hold you
That's all I want to do.
My arms enfold you so safely and secure
Let me hold you until the morning sun.
When I hold you, I know you're love I've won.
But now you're here, so very close to me
Not just a dream but my reality
Our journey has its start
You placed it in my heart
No longer will we be apart.
At last I'll hold you
Surround you with my arms
At last I'll hold you
Your body close and warm
When I hold you
>From this moment we are one
When I hold you
I feel my life's begun.
Girl, let me hold you
That's all I want to do
Let me hold you
Beside me all the way
Let me hold you
At the start of each new day
When I hold you
Our love won't fade away
Our love won't fade away
