How many times can you jump out of the cupboard Before someone gets suspicious or someone gets discovered
You can live forever in a split second of fame
Come on down the price is right what's your name While a crocodile makes good shoes and a dog may change his coat
I can't change what's written on your face tonight and I quote

Chorus

Oh I wish you could see Quite how much you could mean to me
You worthless thing
If you were ten feet taller and almost handsome
I might pay this king's ransom You worthless thing

They commit blue murder along Union Avenue
Then they sell you souvenir matches Nightclubs full of grave robbers from Memphis, Tennessee
And Los Vegas body snatchers
And he's carrying a warning can't you see how his eyes glint
Keep your bloody hands off my life your affectionate fingerprint

Chorus

All the cars and pills and girls who tore his shirt to tatters
Do you know how tall he was 'cos that is all that really matters?
Do you know his mother's last name do you think that he's divine?
You've seen the film you've read the book you're drinking vintage Elvis Presley

Bored out of your tiny mind while life is twice as large They'll cut her down to size on television She's available and beautiful, but with more time to devote

They're going to take this cable now and stick it down your throat

So this is an obituary which should be right and fitting For every clockwork cat and conceivable kitten Chorus
