If I had a car phone and you had a car phone I could call you up right now I wouldn't have to know where you are I could dial in your car
And we could talk Connecticut to Kansas and be paying the bills all our lives People with cars with phones inside make more money than you or I

If I had an airplane or you had an airplane you could rest your head next to mine Call me in my car tonight tell me where to meet your private flight And we'd get a hotel cause people with airplanes sleep in very nice rooms for the night they rush off in the first early morning light living their lives at the speed of their flight

Some people have car phones and some they have airplanes
but only I have you So pay phones and buses will do the speed of a heart they don't try to improve And if I'd had a car phone and you'd had an airplane we might never have met on our road cause you aren't where you are you're more where you go Can you live your life fast and try to love slow
