Yo I'm talkin' 'bout:

Temptation, things that run through your head like I wonder what my friends girlfriends like in bed Yo, I bet sometimes she thinks of me instead Greed, that has to do with more then you need Sin, that's usually where temptation leads turn it into an addiction in an instant take heat Feedin' of your ego cash confusion and sex That's why like every 8 months you end up back with your ex
For a couple days and then remember why it wasn't meant to be go your separate way and think "I wonder what got into me" you're done but then another 8 months comes around eventually Vicious circle, I've done some things that are worth mentioning Temptation made me do some things I regret easy to fall into, but hard to forget Used to put the blame on others, but that's a bunch of nonsense
now I try to focus and just listen to my conscience

[Prevail]

Yo I'm talkin' 'bout:

Temptation and it's relation to the human nation
The obvious, money drugs sexual frustration How else can you explain public fun and grain the exclaiming murder rate, and the clime to fame It makes men touch parts that are not to be
It makes women clutch parts that are a part of me
So all that surface level services the day to date(?)
An ongoing bases of desire and display
The first sensation recognized by script we can't detach ourselves from it ones we get into it And why would we it feels better with the shadows close a comfortable feeling of comparing yours to overdose Sometimes innocent and other times consequential

9 outta the 10 times done it's purely confidential Harder to handle when your crew's talking in your ear Until you learn to abstain it draws you near Temptation
