

Craig Morris

"Nice Day"

Visit "Nice Day" on MotoLyrics.com

You're singing that song again and messing around with the words.

Your actions are camp and you're using words I've never heard.

And there sits your fan club all answering questions
you write,

It's time to take flight.

You know if the answers are right.

You're dancing that dance again and messing around with your hair,

Your existence is awkward but you've proved you don't really care.

And there stands your posse to chat with admiring your grace

And that look on your face.

You know that you're in the right place.

[Chorus]

And you use life to your advantage, enjoying the games that you play,

And your friends are given a welcome and your enemies can go away.

Ain't today a nice day?

Yeah, today's a nice day.

You're dreaming that dream again of heroes and villains you've met.

Your life is a monster- to live it is your safest bet.

And there are your colleagues with nothing but respect for you.

When friendship is true,

You know what you have to do!

[Chorus]

Visit Craig Morris page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.