reach for the sky babe

make it to heaven

before your dreams grow old

it's over your shoulder

reach for your dawn's own light i don't believe in miracles but i do believe in fate and i do believe it's calling your name don't depend on lucky breaks if luck is on your side it's just the joker playing in your game you can see the chances coming but you look the other way at the risk of sounding helpless girl that's where we went wrong...

no one's so blind girl

don't tell me you're not satisfied don't tell me you can't wait to find a reason for the rocks upon your road educate your appetite with a capital "A"
learn to let me help you share the load but you keep me at your distance as the tears begin to show so i really hope you make it girl before i go
(it's all up to you
